Town Councillors Attend To Many Items Business At Last Regular Session

A regular meeting of the town council was held with Mayor Thompson and Councillors Michael, Deshayes, Gilbert and Brown present.

Owing to the poor attendance at picture shows M. S. Hirtle was granted a reduction in hall rent for the next couple of months. Messrs. H. E. Hunter and R. A. Wilson waited on the council in the interests of the Bismington Committee who were desirous of obtaining the use of the Community Hall during the season for the purpose of putting in two courts and asked what rental the council would require. The committee would pay for their own light and fuel and attend to their own janitor work and pay a lump sum for the use of the hall the hall to be available for at least three days a week for at least six months beginning November 1st. It was moved and carried unanimously that the hall be offered for rent to the committee for the sum of $110 for the next 6 months beginning 1st of November. It is being understood that they can use the hall any day when it is not otherwise engaged, and an average of three days a week, they to do their own janitor work except for that now being done by the regular cleaner. As an alternative the I.O.O.F. hall be offered for rent to the committee for the next 6 months for the same sum to pay the running expenses such as light and fuel.

Mr. Beattie waited on the council in connection with the committee for the improvement of the cemetery grounds. This matter had been discussed at previous meetings and was now awaiting information from the department of health regarding the cemetery act. Mr. Beattie was of the opinion that monies collected for the improvement of the cemetery from plot holders should be paid into the town and held in a trust account and in event of there not being enough collected that the whole be refunded. Councillors Deshayes and Brown carried a motion that the monies paid into the town be held in trust and if there was not enough money raised the whole be refunded.

An application had been received from Miss Steed for a permit to open and operate a cafe to be known as Noel's Java Shop in the building adjoining the new Harbourside Hotel. The council granted the application.

A lot owned by the town was sold to a resident. A resident asked that permission be granted him to stack some hay on the lot at the rear of his residence. Section 1 sub section (4) of the by-law prohibits the stacking of loose or baled hay or straw within the limits of the town and within one hundred feet of any building. The request was granted owing to the provisions of the by-law.

The 2-22 Field Battery advised the council that they would not require the I.O.O.F. hall in the future.

MANY THOUSANDS OF BLANKETS NEEDED BY BOMBED VICTIMS

"Thousands of blankets new or as good as new" are urgently needed for bombed out victims in Britain, and the people of Canada are asked to "spare a blanket" to the Canadian Red Cross Society, which has launched its second big appeal to provide these necessities for airdrop victims.

In the last campaign the Red Cross collected throughout Canada 184,137 blankets and 101,294 quilts. This supply has been distributed to bombing victims, military hospitals, and the benefit of distressed merchant seamen.

Many expressions of gratitude have been received by the Canadian Red Cross from bombed sufferers in Britain, and many have called the contributions of blankets and quilts "a lifeline."

In such centres as Birmingham, Coventry, Plymouth and London thousands of Canadian blankets and quilts were made available to the homeless within a few hours of the raids due to the efficient system of collection planned by the Canadian Red Cross overseas organization in London.

According to advices from Britain the need for more blankets and quilts is most urgent. But blankets must be woolen and new or as "good as new."

Those unable to provide blankets or quilts may aid the appeal by contributing $5 for the purchase of a single blanket. Donations should be sent to provincial or local headquarters.

Contributors to the appeal are asked to send in their contributions to provincial or local headquarters for directions as to where the blankets and quilts may be sent.

SEEDTIME AND HARVEST

By Dr. K. C. Neelby
Director, Agricultural Department
North-West Territories and Yukon

"Going Back"—2
Two weeks ago I tried to show that the belief in some sort of mysticism process which led to "going back" or "reverting" to crop varieties was ill-founded. So far as wheat and barley are concerned, the need for seed is due to deteriorating mechanical mixing and occasional but not frequent use of the seed.

The proposal to discontinue mixing seed and occasional but not frequent use of the seed is not a recommendation of self-fertilized crops. It is a recommendation of the principle. So long as wheat and barley stocks will pass the test of being natural, the need is needless to worry about new seed.

Hybrid corn need must be renewed each year. It could be grown in view of its immediate hybrid ancestry. If we were to produce hybrid seed of wheat, we could do so at a cost of about $100 per bushel. It would be more vigorous and productive than the standard varieties, and it would "go back" in succeeding generations just as hybrid corn does. There is nothing mysterious about this.

Ons may be different. It seems likely that future wild oats may increase to the point where renewal of seed is necessary. This might be called going back, running out, or anything you like.

Three important points to England from Scotland are: Bookends, whiskey and seed potatoes. The bookends find in like spirit, whiskey does in because it is well known, and potatoes are brought in from the States. It is interesting to note that the going back is due to the accumulation of seed in the States. The importation of disease-free seed, but, after all, potato tubers are not seed!

THE WEEK IN EDMONTON

Growth of the credit union and co-operative movement in the province continues on a steady scale according to the August report of the co-operative activities branch, department of trade and industry. Since the beginning of 1940, new co-operatives have been established and are working actively 12 are ready to commence activities and 71 are organizing. The total now in operation is 178.

Warning to farmers against purchase of books for breeding purposes is being issued by the Alberta Department of Agriculture this week. Farmers are instructed to buy and clipping the tails of those which prove resistant to the disease. Farmers are warned not to purchase birds so marked when intended for breeding or laying.

Bringing the total to eight in the province, two new health units have recently been established under the direction of the department of health, they are: Hilden, comprising the Hilden school division, and at Clover Bar. Technical staff of this latter unit will be located in the Qu'Appelle Ridge, Edmonton. Object of the unit system is to bring medical services to a par with urban centres to the rural areas organized. A medical officer and nurses are full time staff members, concerned with all phases of public health. It is reported that Ponoka district is also considering adoption of the unit plan.

Operations of credit unions in the light of new installment buying regulations is the subject of inquiry and study by provincial officials. The Ottawa announced the curb on time sales, especially in regard to loans granted to finance purchase of automobiles. Union members save systematically in order to be able to borrow money for such purposes from their common fund.

Annual convention of the Canadian Road Builders Association may be held in Alberta next year if an invitation extended by Hon. W. A. Fallick at the recent Niagara Falls conference is acted upon by the executive. On his return to Edmonton, Mr. Fallick said the convention had adopted his suggestion that Ottawa be urged to establish a National Highway Commission to investigate and report on highway matters. During the forthcoming year the minister will be an executive member of the association.

"One thing is certain. We have to get all the oil we can out of Alberta," stated C. R. Cottrell, Dominion oil controller revealed that the general exploratory program in Canadian history is underway here. "A tremendous amount of work has been done in mapping out prospective fields and what remains to be done is to drill wells," added Mr. Cottrell.

"It would give me a lot of peace of mind and some pleasure if they would get away and drill wells in the Vermilion and Battlefield fields. These people who have lands under lease had better go to work on it."

Alberta's prime holiday attraction, the Jasper-Banff highway is closed for the season. Snow has blocked the highway at the summit. Reports indicate that the hunting season is attracting a good number of sports to the area adjacent to the National Parks, and that the bird hunters are flocking in to centres in all parts of the province. Bares are good.

Board of Trade Meeting Red Cross Will Stage Old Timers' Pow-wow

A meeting of the Board of Trade was held one evening last week in the town office and was attended by about a score of interested people.

A resolution was drafted to the provincial government that monies collected from auto licenses and gasoline taxes be earmarked for highway construction and that special attention be given to that part of the Trans-Canada Highway between Bassano and Cluny where, in bad weather, it was necessary to have a tractor there to pull cars out of the bad spots. It was stated that farmers charged car drivers $3 to pull them over the bad spots.

Mr. Sturmelier gave a report on the new park started in town, and hoped this would be carried on and would be a beauty spot. There would be some work to do but the expense would not be great. A considerable amount of voluntary work had been done.

The Old Timers' dance and banquet, was discussed at length. It was the consensus of opinion that the tradition of this annual event should not be lost sight of, and while it may not be advisable, under existing conditions, to follow the same procedure as in previous years, some suitable entertainment should be arranged.

A representative of the Red Cross was present and asked that if the old timers' banquet was to be held this year that the Board consider giving the Red Cross the opportunity of serving the supper so that they might raise funds to carry on the Red Cross. It was finally decided to hold an Old Timers' banquet and dance to be held under the auspices of the Red Cross.

CANADIAN WOMEN NEEDED FOR AUXILIARY AIR FORCE

Canadian women are now being invited to fight Hitler with their own favorite weapons—a good meal. An urgent call has gone out from the Department of National War Services for 300 cooks.

Applicants don't need to be fancy culinary experts or dietitians in order to qualify. The main requirement is that they know the simple recipes for the "home-cooked" style of food so dear to the heart of the airman and soldier boy.

If the volunteer is accepted she will be issued a smart uniform and enlisted in the Canadian Women's Auxiliary Air Force or the Canadian Women's Army Corps.

The need is a vital one and authorities have promised there will be no delay in handing applications. Successful applicants will be notified at once to report for medical examination. Rate of pay is ninety cents a day with uniform, medical services and board supplied.

Applications are available at all R.C.A.F. recruiting centres, at Military District headquarters and at offices of National War Services divisional registrars throughout Canada. Successful volunteers for the Canadian Women's Auxiliary Air Force will be sent for three weeks of training at Haverley College, followed by special six weeks of instruction in G.O.P. They will then be posted to R.C.A.F. stations.

Chances for promotion in the cooking branch will be as good as in any other trade of the service auxiliaries. Every woman who steps forward will be playing an important role. Not only will she be helping to keep Can-

NEW COLOR SCHEME FOR ALBERTA PLATES

Alberta's color combination on the motor license plates for the new license year which opens April 1 will be white numerals on a blue background according to informants received by officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

It has been several years since this combination has been used in this province.

Part of next year's supply has already been delivered to the provincial government, as the order for plates was placed in 1940. The province took the precaution of filling an order early when it was indicated that manufacturers might have difficulty in obtaining material for the plates, owing to war conditions.

While there have been suggestions from some quarters that it is intended to adopt a permanent plate, it is not likely that Alberta will take such action.

British Columbia, it is claimed, tried a permanent plate as an experiment, but changed to revert to the system of changing the colors each year.

Officials also point out that a certain number of plates are lost each year and these have to be substituted now in any case.

Another point is that adoption of a permanent plate plan might cause some confusion in operating the system under which the province receives 10 per cent of the annual fee if the plates are turned in before Jan. 10 of each year.

Inflation Or Thrift

With the lessons of the past confronting them, it seems almost incredible that there should exist in Canada people who would have the government of the country adopt a policy of monetary inflation as the "easy" way of financing the country's war effort and of buttressing its internal economy.

The average Canadian of mature years, who is old enough to have been a spectator of the evil effects of inflation during the first Great War and the post-war depression era, hardly expects to subscribe to a doctrine which, in practice, brought such bitter rewards to the rank and file of the general public in every country which attempted to lift itself by its bootstraps in this manner.

There might be some excuse for the advocacy of the gospel of "funny money" on the part of the mentally immature, or of those who are very young to realize the disastrous effects of the adoption of a policy which history, and very recent history, has demonstrated is invariably followed by a day of reckoning, a reckoning which can only take the form of bankruptcy, such as the world experienced during the years which followed the great financial collapse of 1929.

An Object Lesson

Surely the experiences of Germany during the years which followed the first Great War should be the object lesson of this country of the disastrous aftermath of an inflationist policy. Indeed, had it not been for the ruinous effects of this policy, it is altogether probable that the people of that country would not have heralded Hitler as their saviour and placed him in the position of controlling them in a war which is destined to complete the ruin blithely started when the printing press was allowed to run amok.

Even now the people of the world are being given a demonstration of what inflation means to the common people in the countries so recently subjugated by the Nazis, where they are being stripped bare of the very necessities of existence by the subtle device of forcing them to accept printing press money for the guile of "paying" for them. In these countries prices are soaring to a giddy altitude and this, coupled with drastic rationing, is driving them to hunger and rage.

It is hard enough, a people to be robbed by their rulers in this polite form, but at least they cannot get it. How much worse it would be for a people willingly to allow themselves to be robbed by such a vicious device, when they have the power to prevent themselves being tied and feet in economic chains.

Fortunate, indeed, are the people of this country that their leaders are men who have steadfastly set their faces against this financial evil of the wage, men who realize that the safe way is not the easy way, but that increasing sacrifices now will mean later on a burden that will not be intolerable and will not break the backs of the people and ruin the country.

The Same Road

This war has got to be the last and there are only three ways of doing it—taxation, borrowing, inflation. The first is the soundest, safest and sanest. The second is sound and safe and sane, as long as we are borrowing from ourselves, which is precisely what we are doing when we buy war savings certificates or subscribe to government loans. As long as we are following these two methods we are not preparing a road for our own backs. The last is the broad road which leads to destruction.

The straight and narrow road of paying as we go, or of borrowing from ourselves entails personal sacrifice and necessitates thrift. It means that Canadians must spend less and less on pleasures and save more and more, not only that we may win the war more speedily but so that the shock of post-war readjustment may be cushioned.

The road to security for the future was aptly pointed out recently by J. A. McLeod, president of the Bank of Nova Scotia, in his address at the Bank's annual meeting, when he said:

"If inflation is to be avoided, there is only one way in which Canadians can lead the necessary money (to finance the war effort)—that is, by strictly limiting their expenditures and thus increase their store of savings. It is thus a vital part of the war effort on the home front that everyone who can reasonably economize should save more and more. For those whose incomes are rising as a result of war-time expansion, a high rate of saving is not only the surest way of paying for the war, but also of building up a reserve, they will be providing against the day of post-war readjustment when their jobs and their incomes will be gravely threatened.

"All of us," Mr. McLeod continued, "are anxious to avoid any serious inflation because it is unjust, inefficient and threatening to the very fabric of our society. Under these circumstances, we must willingly accept heavy taxation and, more than that, we must move to the maximum of our ability. It may appear that this is the hard way to finance the war, but because it combines efficiency and justice in the greatest measure, it is the best way and the democratic way."

British Columbia Town Sets A Record For War Savings

During the last six months the 552 residents of the lumber town, Chemainus, 50 miles north of Victoria, have put $24,864 into War Savings Certificates, an average of $47.53 for each inhabitant, man, woman and baby. John Humbird, head of the mills there, says Chemainus is signed up 100 per cent for war savings—everybody saving and paying regularly to help finance the war. Chemainus thus has set a record that cannot be surpassed. It should be a matter of pride for the rest of us on the island that one of our towns has set this example to the rest of Canada—Victoria Times.

At its narrowest point, Bering Strait, which separates North America and Asia, is only about 56 miles wide.

Poles Old And Young Have Been Deported To Siberia

Half a million Poles from the Russian occupied belt of the former republic of Poland, have been reported to Siberia in the first year of the Russian occupation, and dumped there to get along as best they can, or perish if they are not strong enough to survive, writes Frederick T. Birchall in the New York Times. The mass deportations began shortly after the Red Army occupied the eastern area of Poland and are still continuing. "Their inequity varies according to the transportation available. In the deportations," says Mr. Birchall, "no one, old or young, was spared—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Uses New Idea

Advertisement In British Newspapers Is In Form Of Quiz

A regular advertiser in the British newspapers is the ministry of food, which buys space to urge conservation of food to educate the people in the best use of their somewhat restricted supplies.

A recent advertisement is in the form of a "quiz," with 10 questions asked, and the answers given at the bottom in inverted type, to discourage peeping. "For what important cereal is Scotland famous?" Everybody has got that one. "What is the principal reason why you should buy home-produced foods?" Neither would that present any difficulties. But others were not so simple.

"What is a hay-box?" "Mrs. Barde, in Dickens' Pickwick Papers, ate petticoats." What are they? "The three of the following are protective foods, three supply energy. Which is which? Carrots, flour, tomatoes, wheatsnail, and dripping, rice." Full marks, 20 "make you a cook-general." "Incidentally a hay-box is a full economy and petticoats are pig's trotters.—Ottawa Journal.

Saving And Sacrifice

Investing To The Limit In War Savings Certificates

The call of the moment, and for the duration of the war, is undoubtedly one of saving and sacrifice—giving up things that are not really essential, being sparing in the use of everything, saving articles that have a commercial value, avoiding the purchase of luxuries and investing them in war savings certificates and other government securities not only to assist in the prosecution of the war but to store up resources with which to ease the economic blow which will undoubtedly fall at the close of hostilities. Once they appreciate the necessity of such a course being followed, the women of Canada may be depended upon to accept it. 100 per cent.—Brookville Recorder and Times.

Elephant Tested Span And Refused To Take Load Across

How an elephant was used to test a bridge has been reported at Colombo, Ceylon. An engine was being drawn by the beast to a tea factory in the hills. A bridge over a deep ravine had to be crossed and the safety was doubted.

The mahout led the elephant to the bridge as if to cross. The beast put out one foot, cautiously tested the bridge and then refused to cross. Not until eight tree trunks had been added to the structure would the elephant proceed with the engine.

Encircling The World

Flying Boats Can Cover Huge Distances With Facilities At Hand
Sir Alan Cobham, addressing the Royal Society of Arts in London on the subject of refueling aircraft in the air, said that we had now sufficient data and experience of successful achievement to show that the process was no longer an experiment but a practice which could be put into everyday use.

Important trials had led to the conclusion that, generally, flight refueling could be carried out whenever it was possible to operate air transport. The refueling operation had also been carried out on flying-boats employed on the Atlantic service. In addition to flight refueling to assist take-off, it could be used for refueling aircraft at some intermediate point along the route.

With a still air range of 5,000 miles it would be possible for aircraft to encircle the world, with stops at Cairo, Bombay, Singapore, Darwin, Sydney, Suva, Honolulu, Vancouver and Quebec.—London Times.

Buddhist Doctrine Forbids Hunting Wild Creatures In Tibet

Hunting is one of the greatest crimes in Tibet, for Buddhist doctrine forbids the taking of life in any form. The result is that wild creatures of every kind and variety flourish in the Tibetan highlands, and wild cats, marmots, partridges, white pheasants, wild ducks and geese are completely unmolested wherever one appears to within a few feet of them. In most of the monasteries meat is eaten but only the meat of domestic animals, which, it is thought, are clearly expiating some past sin in a former human existence by their present enslavement.

Alberta Rose Culture

Develop Red Rose That Will Withstand Rigors Of Climate

An attractive variety of red rose that will withstand the rigors of Northern Alberta's climate without special care and one that will bloom for two months instead of three weeks has been developed by George S. Bugnet of the Rich Valley district. The 62-year-old pioneer who was the first settler in Rich Valley, 40 miles northwest of Edmonton, has cross-bred cultivated roses with native kinds for 16 years as a hobby. His new variety of semi-double roses have various shades of red with blooms 3 1/2 inches in diameter.

Mr. Bugnet said he does not intend to turn his hobby into a money-making proposition and is not interested in selling roses. At present the pioneer homesteader is working on a yellow rose but this work will take "five or six years" to bring to the standard of the red shades he explained.

Secret Device

May Be Britain's Answer To Submarine Attacks

The Toronto Daily Star said in a newspaper story that it had learned "a secret device now being manufactured in Canada may be Britain's 'ace in the hole' against Germany's U-boat attacks."

The Star's story continued: "This anti-submarine apparatus practically assures the doom of any submarine once its presence in a certain area is known. It is stated. Even though the U-boat may be hiding at a great depth it is possible for planes or divers to drop depth bombs with accuracy. It is in the act of submerging, it is said, the periscope surface is rendered of no further use until it is replaced."

WHAT IT COSTS TO MECHANIZE ARMY FOR FIELD

For every dollar spent in the last war on armament and transport Canada is now spending five dollars. Victor Sifton, Master-General of the Ordnance side some revealing comparisons. Here are a few facts as given by Mr. Sifton.

In 1914-18, an infantry division moved on foot at two and half miles an hour. A division was doing well to cover 20 miles a day.

Today an infantry division moves at a minimum speed of ten miles an hour.

A Canadian infantry division in 1918 had 164 motor vehicles and 4,400 horses. The cost plus upkeep at the front for one year was $2,000,000.

A division today has no horses or wagons but has 3,500 motor vehicles of more than 100 different types. The cost of the vehicles used by a modern division plus one year's upkeep is $1,500,000.

In 1914-18 over-all cost of a division varied from 30 to 40 millions a year according to severity of fighting. Today's cost of equipping and maintaining an infantry division for one year is $800,000.

To equip and maintain a Canadian armored division in the field for one year will cost $155,000,000.

There was no military formation in 1918 to compare with the modern armored division. But the cost of maintaining the whole Canadian Corps in France in full the fiscal year 1918-17 was $143,000,000 or 12,000,000 less than maintaining an armored division.

One armored division develops 394,237 horse power, as much as the electrical power used in the city of Toronto.

FACTS ABOUT CANCER

About 95 per cent of cancers of the stomach occur between the ages of 40 and 70. Symptoms which demand an early visit to the doctor are:

1. An "indigestion" which appears in an adult and persists for any length of time.

2. A "hunger-like" distress in the upper abdomen one or two hours after eating.

3. A change in the character of chronic indigestion which has been suffered for years.

4. No definite indigestion but gradual loss of weight and strength.

5. In some few cases, vomiting as a first symptom.

6. A few may complain of a very definite dislike for meat.

The persistence of any of these symptoms over a period of time demands investigation.

Cancer can be diagnosed by an X-ray examination and by viewing the interior of the stomach with new instrument, the gastroscope.

Cancer of the stomach is curable but only by surgery, and this depends on the size of the growth.

The size of the growth depends on the length of time it has been present. Don't delay consulting your doctor after the appearance of the above symptoms.

Don't take indigestion too lightly. Soda and other so-called digestion cures will not cure cancer of the stomach.

The master key to success in the treatment of cancer is EARLY DIAGNOSIS. Patients who have come to the Alberta Diagnostic Clinic have had their symptoms on an average of one year.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

The annual average exports of Canadian wheat overseas for the five years immediately prior to the outbreak of this war, was equivalent to 175 million bushels of wheat. During the five years of this war the exports have averaged 217 million bushels a year, and for the two months of August and September of this crop year, exports have been running at about the same high rate.

It will be observed from this, that while the war has cut off markets for Canadian wheat, yet the amount of wheat which has left Canadian shores for export has actually increased substantially since the war started as compared with similar annual exports for the five years immediately prior to this war.

It is apparent, therefore, that it is not the war that is responsible for the present wheat surplus. The truth is that our wheat surplus was built up by the high tariff policies adopted during the past 20 years by the United States, Canada and other countries. These high tariffs made it impossible for foreign people to sell in Canada enough of their goods to bring them in sufficient Canadian dollars with which to purchase those quantities of Canadian wheat which they badly needed. Canada, as a result, forgot the ancient adage "If you don't buy you can't sell."
